INSTRUCTIONS

1. Use scissors to cut out the tulips from your paper pattern.
2. We are going to use the paper painting technique and apply a heavy amount of Red Head and Coral Reef to the back of the tulip and set it on the plate.
3. Press down on the paper to make sure to work out any air, it's okay if paint leaks out.
4. Let the paint dry up a little while you cut out your leaves.
5. Take a liner brush and Blue Green Paint and make a stem for every flower.
6. Use the paper painting technique in steps 2-3 to add the leaves. Using Mango Madness, Sea Mist, and Blue Green.
7. Wipe off any major excess paint leaking out. No stress if you wipe a stem, we will be putting another layer again.
8. Use a fan brush to apply a layer or two of Mango Madness.
9. Take your liner brush and apply another coat of Blue Green to the stem.
10. Next we will make the dots using the back of a paint brush dipped in Carrot Juice.
11. Finally, use a straight pin to remove your paper pieces by poking the center and scooping it upward.

TIPS

- Make sure to apply a generous amount of paint to the back of the paper.
- Press the paper down, don't worry about the paint that leaks out!
- When you remove the paper, don't dig at the edge with the pin, it'll leave marks. Instead, poke in the middle and scoop upward.
